$2590THE PROJECT: VOLCANIC SOILS

"The Chilean volcanic terroir is nothing but dynamic. Many of our vineyards are located on mature volcanic - igneous regions, where soils are a result of the weathering processes that have occurred over millions of years. However, we also have vines growing on modern volcanic ash deposits emitted directly from volcanoes that we can see today in the magnificent Andes."

WINEMAKER'S APPROACH

"Our philosophy is to create wines that reflect their unique soils, formed by volcanic activity over millions of years and that are true expressions of their origin, displaying the purity and typicity of the specific grape without excessive oak that can mask the unique flavours."

The chance to source grapes from a range of denominations gives the portfolio more diversity but in each wine my style is consistent as I aim to really manifest the volcanic rocks and ash by ultimately producing wines that are more vibrant and intense with balanced tannins and acidity."

"Each variety is separately and manually harvested, then they are press in whole bunches and fermented also separately in stainless steel tanks for 20 days under strict temperatures control between 14 and 20°C to potentiate aromas and varietal expression. Once the first fermentation is over, the blend is done and the wine is stabilized and clarified. Then the wine is bottled adding the "trigage liquor" to give way to the second fermentation under controlled temperatures for 2 months. After remaining on its lees for 12 months, it is disgorged and the expedition liquor is added, ending the process."

AOP Pauillac, Bordeaux, France

Château Pichon Baron 2018 reveals a dark garnet colour. The precise and delicate nose offers notes of fresh fruit, black berries and spices. The attack is mellow, generous, rounded and juicy, developing powerful, well-blended tannins. The body is structured with silky, racy tannins. The flavour is carried by the structure, which preserves the mid-palate.

The Pauillac Terroir

Pauillac, a Médoc appellation, is located approximately 40 kilometres to the north of Bordeaux, on the left bank of the Gironde River. The land, which features quaternary gravel deposits and the large pebbles and sand which are typical of the appellation, is a winemaking paradise. The subsoil composition allows the retention of water to feed the roots, while the undulating relief of the gravel soils is ideal for drainage.

Our Tinta de Toro vines make up approximately 32 hectares divided into 4 subplots with their traditional names: Rompesedas, El Salgadero, Los Lastros, and Las Parvas.
We can proudly say ours are amongst the oldest vines in Spain, with several being over 140 years old.

Since the very beginning, we searched for the oldest and best plots in the area. However, just being old is no guarantee that the vines will produce great wines. They require intense work and painstaking care to extract the best from Nature.

OUR WINEMAKING

A world reference in the wine industry, he developed his professional career in Pomerol, France and Mendoza, Argentina, consolidating himself as a great interpreter of the terroir. Guided by his wise mentor, Michel Rolland, Marcelo made his way by producing world-renowned wines. He has led the vintages in Bordeaux for Chateau La Violette, Chateau Le Gay and Chateau Montviel, living in France between September and November each year since 2001. His experience in these two distinct terroirs has helped him gain international fame for these exceptional wines. Marcelo consistently receives high marks for his wines in France and Argentina and is the first Latin American winemaker to earn 100 Robert Parker points, with a French wine.

The most westerly vineyard on the Oregon side of the Columbia Gorge AVA, Phelps Creek is nestled amongst the foothills of Mt Defiance at 1200 feet elevation.

Established in 1990, our small boutique winery focuses on estate grown Pinot Noir and Chardonnay varietals, annually producing 5,000 cases of wine in total. Vineyard care takes center stage in our wine production, where sustainable agricultural practices combined with careful management of the fruit yields on the vines lead to the noted luxurious intensity within our bottle.

OUR WINEMAKING

Alexandrine Roy joins us from Burgundy, France as Director of Winemaking. The fourth generation Vigneron continually amazes our team with her timeless techniques steeped in French tradition. The collaboration began serendipitous as her and our Founder, Bob Morus met at the International Pinot Noir Celebration in 2007. Both of our site's terroirs were so similar it inspired a winemaking partnership. Originally brought on to produce a special cuvée from our estate Pinot Noir, her role has expanded to contributions reflected in all of our wines.

OUR VITICULTURE

We first planted our oldest vines of Pinot Noir in 1990, adding a block of Dijon clone Chardonnay two years later. Over the years we have expanded the vineyards and now nurture 34 acres (25 Acres of Pinot Noir, 4.5 acres of Chardonnay and 1/2 acre of Pinot Gris). In addition to our estate fruit, we experiment with growing "alternative whites" just across the Columbia River on Underwood Mountain.
